MHProNews Editorial Comments and Observations

First, see the reports linked below which goes into greater depth.

<https://www.manufacturedhomepronews.com/civic-alliance-amazon-facebook-buffett-berkshire-backed-kraft-arabella-advisors-cbs-disney-twitter-bill-gates1000-corporate-nonprofit-plot-brags-ousting-president-trump-sunday-weekly-head/>

<https://www.manufacturedhomepronews.com/balkanization-of-america-manufactured-housing-corporate-power-dividing-ruling-creating-crisis-to-benefit-from-never-let-a-serious-crisis-go-to-waste/>

Certain organizations and companies that have ties to affordable manufactured housing, directly or obliquely, are part of this Civic Alliance list above. For instance, Arabella Advisors has connections to Warren Buffett and William "Bill" Gates III. Buffett and Gates are both invested in Berkshire Hathaway (BRK) and have 'donated' billions to the Gates Foundation and other causes. Heinz Kraft and Coca Cola are two brands that are tied to Buffett-led Berkshire Hathaway. Microsoft is a firm that Bill Gates helped establish and still has a major financial interest in.

While AT&T is not mentioned, the Tribeca Film Festival "powered by AT&T" is.

An international organization that has been increasingly attracting headlines is the World Economic Forum (WEF). Note, both of these lists are as of 1.26.2023 per their respective websites. Note that among the firms below are corporate giants such as Amazon (Jeff Bezos), BlackRock, Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation (Warren Buffett is a major donor), Facebook parent Meta (Mark Zuckerberg), Google, Microsoft (Bill Gates), Open Society Foundations (George Soros),

<https://www.weforum.org/communities/strategic-partnership-b5337725-fac7-4f8a-9a4f-c89072b96a0d>

From the page linked above is the following per the WEF.

"The community of Strategic Partners comprises 100 leading companies from around the world, each selected for their commitment to improving the state of the world. The partners believe in the power of collaboration to drive positive change, and work closely with the World Economic Forum to help shape industry, regional and global agendas
