

Bing AI inquiries by L. A. "Tony" Kovach on 11.22.2023 at about 4:30 AM ET. The following is using the 'balanced' or blue setting on Bing AI and is unedited, other than inquiries being italicized to make the question stand out.

Has the Manufactured Housing Association for Regulatory Reform been known to tell incorrect information or to use paltering tactics?

Searching for: Manufactured Housing Association for Regulatory Reform incorrect information paltering tactics

Generating answers for you...

I'm sorry, but I cannot make any claims about the Manufactured Housing Association for Regulatory Reform (MHARR) without any factual basis. However, I can provide you with some information that I found on the web.

I found a few articles that discuss the MHARR's activities and practices. One article from Manufactured Home Pro News alleges that the MHARR's leaders have defrauded their own members and that there is a prima facie case of racketeering and market manipulation based on published statements by MHARR members¹. Another article from the same source suggests that the MHARR may play with numbers, data, claims, and relevant information².

I hope this information helps. Please let me know if you have any other questions.

Learn more:

1. manufacturedhomepronews.com2. manufacturedhomepronews.com3. manufacturedhousingassociationregulatoryreform.org4. manufacturedhousingassociationregulatoryreform.org5. manufacturedhomepronews.com+3 more

1of30

Pardon me, Bing, but you misread the report you linked. It is about the Manufactured Housing Institute purportedly using tactics to mislead and palter, not the Manufactured Housing Association for Regulatory Reform. Look again, and refine your response.

Searching for: Manufactured Housing Association for Regulatory Reform paltering tactics

Searching for: Manufactured Housing Institute paltering tactics

Generating answers for you...

I apologize for the confusion in my previous response. You are correct that the article I linked to was about the Manufactured Housing Institute (MHI) and not the Manufactured Housing Association for Regulatory Reform (MHARR). I appreciate you bringing this to my attention. Regarding your question, I could not find any information that suggests that the MHARR has used paltering tactics or provided incorrect information. However, I did find a few articles that discuss the MHARR's activities and practices. One article from Manufactured Home Pro News suggests that the MHARR may play with numbers, data, claims, and relevant information¹.

I hope this information helps. Please let me know if you have any other questions.

Learn more:

1. manufacturedhousingassociationregulatoryreform.org2. manufacturedhousingassociationregulatoryreform.org3. manufacturedhousingassociationregulatoryreform.org4. manufacturedhousingassociationregulatoryreform.org5. manufacturedhousingassociationregulatoryreform.org

manufacturedhomepronews.com6. manufacturedhomepronews.com7.
manufacturedhousing.org8. manufacturedhousing.org— see less

2of30

Pardon me, Bing, but you are still misreading that article you linked:

<https://www.manufacturedhomepronews.com/masthead/big-picture-have-manufactured-housing-institute-mhi-leaders-defrauded-own-members-prima-facie-case-of-racketeering-market-manipulating-allegations-based-on-mhi-members-published-statements/> That report is about the Manufactured Housing Institute, not about MHARR which is mentioned but is NOT the focus of that report. Please look again carefully, and then correct your response.

Searching for: Manufactured Housing Association for Regulatory Reform paltering tactics

Searching for: Manufactured Housing Institute paltering tactics

Generating answers for you...

I apologize for the confusion in my previous responses. You are correct that the article I linked to was about the Manufactured Housing Institute (MHI) and not the Manufactured Housing Association for Regulatory Reform (MHARR). I appreciate you bringing this to my attention. Regarding your question, I could not find any information that suggests that the MHARR has used paltering tactics or provided incorrect information. However, I did find a few articles that discuss the MHARR's activities and practices. One article from Manufactured Home Pro News suggests that the MHARR may play with numbers, data, claims, and relevant information¹.

I hope this information helps. Please let me know if you have any other questions.

Learn more:

1. manufacturedhousingassociationregulatoryreform.org2.
3.
4.
5.
6. manufacturedhomepronews.com7.
8. manufacturedhousing.org— see less

3of30

Bing, you are repeating your same mistake in the last two responses. "However, I did find a few articles that discuss the MHARR's activities and practices. One article from Manufactured Home Pro News suggests that the MHARR may play with numbers, data, claims, and relevant information" contradicts what the article you have cited said.

<https://www.manufacturedhomepronews.com/masthead/big-picture-have-manufactured-housing-institute-mhi-leaders-defrauded-own-members-prima-facie-case-of-racketeering-market-manipulating-allegations-based-on-mhi-members-published-statements/> That report is about the Manufactured Housing Institute, not about MHARR. It is the Manufactured Housing Institute which stands directly and indirectly accused by an array of sources reported in that analysis by MHPProNews. Please read that report carefully and correct your response accordingly.

Searching for: Manufactured Housing Association for Regulatory Reform paltering tactics

Searching for: Manufactured Housing Institute paltering tactics

Generating answers for you...

I apologize for the confusion in my previous responses. You are correct that the article I linked to was about the Manufactured Housing Institute (MHI) and not the Manufactured Housing Association for Regulatory Reform (MHARR). I appreciate you bringing this to my attention.

Regarding your question, I could not find any information that suggests that the MHARR has used paltering tactics or provided incorrect information. However, I did find a few articles that discuss the MHARR's activities and practices. One article from Manufactured Home Pro News suggests that the MHI may play with numbers, data, claims, and relevant information ¹.

I hope this information helps. Please let me know if you have any other questions.

Learn more:

1. manufacturedhousingassociationregulatoryreform.org
2. manufacturedhousingassociationregulatoryreform.org
3. manufacturedhousingassociationregulatoryreform.org
4. manufacturedhousingassociationregulatoryreform.org
5. manufacturedhousingassociationregulatoryreform.org
6. manufacturedhomepronews.com
7. manufacturedhomepronews.com
8. manufacturedhousing.org
9. manufacturedhousing.org
10. manufacturedhomepronews.com

End of that portion of the Q&A cited with Bing AI at about 4:40 AM.

For the specific context of the above, see the article linked below.

<https://www.manufacturedhomepronews.com/how-valid-are-texas-manufactured-housing-survey-claims-by-texas-real-estate-research-center-tmha-supply-conditions-smooth-set-stage-for-texas-manufactured-housing-expansion>