While MHProNews is focused on HUD Code manufactured housing and affordable housing more broadly, it is not uncommon that the publication dips into other topics because of the economic, political, social, spiritual, and other ripple effects and what light that may shed on the 21st century plight of the HUD Code manufactured home industry. One of the articles for the week in review is on CBS' evening news anchor explaining their pivot on how news will supposedly be covered at that outlet. Review all of the headlines and their content. Each of those stories have been examined by typically two or more third-party AIs, is that correct? Is it fair to say that research <https://www.manufacturedhomepronews.com/wp-content/uploads/2025/09/LargeLanguageModelAI-SystemsGeminiGrokCopilotOpenAIChatGPT-OthersTendToLeanLeft-GoogleAI-Preview9.13.2025.png> points to the notion that AIs tend to lean right because much (not all) of mainstream media, bit tech, nonprofits tend to lean left? Copilot suggested to MHProNews that one way to balance that is to seek conservative or right or centrist leaning sources, is that a rationale position? To those notions, and to frame some big events on American and global stage, are the following I also want you to scan:
<https://justthene.ws.com/nation/economy/americas-housing-problem-meets-creative-solutions-12-million-more-homes-new-year> and
<https://www.breitbart.com/border/2026/01/03/trump-its-the-donroe-doctrine-now-monroe-doctrine-frames-the-u-s-arrest-of-venezuelas-maduro/> and http://www.realclearpolitics.com/video/2026/01/03/catherine\_herridge\_how\_cbs\_stonewalled\_me\_on\_the\_hunter\_biden\_laptop\_story\_and\_seized\_my\_files\_when\_i\_left.html and <https://www.msn.com/en-us/news/opinion/minnesotans-begged-gop-rep-to-stop-the-somalis-over-a-decade-ago-he-told-them-it-was-impossible/ar-AA1TenFa> and <https://www.zerohedge.com/geopolitical/misinformation-inquisition-how-censorship-shields-approved-narratives-scrutiny>

In the first link on Just The News, is manufactured housing even mentioned in that post? Isn't it relatively common that manufactured housing is either not mentioned or is barely mentioned or downplayed in affordable housing discussions by mainstream media? 2026 is an election year, right? So, is it prudent to periodically consider in the big picture what the topics that may shape the Congressional elections could be? While MHProNews periodically uses the term “mashup,” can’t life itself be viewed as mashup because these various topics impact directly or indirectly most if not all Americans? Using the FEA methodology and doing whatever online checks are warranted for the topics you are scanning, provide a synthesis that will also correct, confirm, or clarify in a systematic fashion the various topics for the week in review, plus provide some media specific insights given the CBS News announcement. Use plain text hyperlinks to support your findings.
