

Pre-publication draft for submission to third-party artificial intelligence (AI) for facts-evidence-analysis (FEA) check for a developing report on MHPProNews

DOE Secretary Chris Wright-MHARR Letter and PR. Why it Matters. Weaponization. Lawfare. Evolving Manufactured Housing Industry Landscape. Plus, the Sunday Weekly MHVille Headlines Recap. FEA

Every headline topic will be addressed in this article: the latest from MHARR as provided in Part I below and their letter to Sec. Chris Wright. What (if anything) MHI has done on the same issue. The notions of lawfare and weaponization and how that plays into the manufactured housing industry landscape, and the headlines for the week in review. Periodically stating the obvious can be clarifying. MHPProNews notes that this and our MHLivingNews sister site are not trade groups. We are trade publishers focused on HUD Code manufactured housing, and to a lesser extent, report on other forms of factory or production center building (modular, prefabs, etc.). MHPProNews dips on a regular basis into insights from the National Association of Home Builders (NAHB), the National Association of Realtors (NAR), because they are major U.S. housing associations that routinely produce research and reporting on their industry, and at times they also report on HUD Code manufactured housing. There are times when those manufactured home reports by NAHB or NAR are arguably better than what the Manufactured Housing Institute (MHI) produces, at least in terms of public-facing information. Curiously, as one of the headlines for the week will explore, despite the fact that MHI calls itself an "institute." Per Dictionary.com: an "institute is an organization or association designed to study or promote something." MHI claims to represent "all segments" of the manufactured housing and factory-built housing industries. What is likely a better description (see the articles for the week in review for details) is that MHI has members that are involved in "all segments" of the factory-built home industry, including the apparent focus of many of those members and MHI on HUD Code manufactured housing. The Modular Home Building Association \(MHBA\) executive director Thomas Hardiman has admitted to MHPProNews that modular construction is widely outpaced by HUD Code home construction. Then there is the Manufactured Housing Association for Regulatory Reform (MHARR) which clearly states that they represent the views of independent producers of HUD Code manufactured housing. There are dual member-producers of both MHARR and MHI. That reality has at times arguably been misunderstood by some. MHPProNews acts as an observer, reporter and analyst of housing more broadly and manufactured housing industry more specifically developments. In our industry expert/professional and editorial view, MHPProNews would be remiss in our research/reporting if we failed to point out the apparent disconnects between what MHI says and what MHI has done and continues to do in their various lobbying, educational, advocacy, marketing and other activities - or the apparent lack thereof. After repeated outreaches to MHI leadership, they have routinely failed to respond to reports like those that follow. While that does not mean that MHI agrees, it does arguably imply that they are unwilling to publicly push-back or debate our decade of reporting that MHI's own leaders have previously praised for their objectivity.

"MHPProNews.com and MHLivingNews.com are both good communications resources for the Manufactured Housing Industry. I and many others at 21st Mortgage and at MHI logon to see the latest news, interviews, debates, videos, opinions and reports they publish. Having a trade publisher that presents thoughtful, respectful commentary independent of any association's perspective – as important as an association's view can be – can be a big asset to advancing the MH Industry's cause. Let me explain why..." - Tim Williams, 21st Mortgage Corp, then MHI Chairman.

"The emergence of Tony Kovach's group of publications has brought a new standard of professionalism to the industry. The thorough and unbiased reporting fills the vacuum that has existed for too long. It's been refreshing to have these communications serving the manufactured housing industry, and here's to their continued success."

Kind thoughts from the late Howard Walker, the long-time right-hand man to ELS Chairman, billionaire Sam Zell. To this day, readers from firms of all sizes, ranging from the industry's giants, to mom-and-pops, make this most-read, runaway #1 trade media in the manufactured housing industry.

It is an arguably serious matter if MHI is posturing efforts on behalf of all segments of the industry and they are rather - slyly or boldly - working for the interests of the consolidators of the manufactured home industry. MHI could, perhaps, mount a potential argument about how great they are and why MHProNews is mistaken in our facts-evidence-analysis (FEA) model of reporting save for a serious problem. There is a growing array of evidence, including the remarks of MHI and MHI corporate leaders, that routinely supports our reading of the facts and evidence in our various analyses. This isn't about taking MHI or their corporate leaders' words out of context. That's one reason why over 3 years ago, MHProNews began a steady pivot in our reports by including third-party artificial intelligence as a FEA checking tool. Since MHI won't debate us directly, the AIs are a reasonable stand-in for such an association effectiveness and reporting accuracy debate. But there are more than just third-party AIs, or remarks by MHARR, or even recent remarks (see the headlines below) by the Tiny House Alliance USA that support MHProNews' thesis. There are also those pesky key performance indicators (KPI). If MHI were doing its job properly, then there would be several times the current level of manufactured home production. But that is not the case. Looking at historic behavior is another factor. The predecessor of MHI, the Mobile Home Manufacturers Association (MHMA) once helped the industry develop hundreds of thousands of new home sites in order to support the industry at the time to continue to increase production. Why is there no similar effort by MHI today? Anyone can hold a class or a seminar. Anyone can publish a PDF of this or that topic and hope that someone reads it and think that it is an accurate reflection of reality. But the KPIs of production, the KPIs of site developments are all objective reasons why MHI is arguably failing by those metrics to do for manufactured housing what NAR or the NAHB are doing for their industry. From the perspective of the MHBA/MBI, the modular industry may have some wins in the recently enacted 21st Century ROAD to Housing Act. But manufactured housing? Perhaps not so much.

HUD Industry Overview

The Manufactured Housing Industry (HUD Product) has Significant Upside as Financing Returns

While true, this remark ignores well documented MH zoning barriers.

Based on May 2023 SKY IR pitch, MH share of single family housing down 2%: from 11% to 9.

Source: (1) U.S. Census Bureau

Per fellow MHI member Cavco Industries (CVC) 12.2023 IR pitch deck:
"188K Average annual home shipments since HUD Code adoption in [6.15] 1976"

The lack of reference by SKY to the Manufactured Housing Improvement Act (a.k.a.: MHIA, 2000 Reform Law, 2000 Reform Act) raises concerns about Champion's corporate and similarly MHI's fiduciary responsibilities due to apparently missing material facts.

Champion reportedly has over '$500 million in free cash.' They have multiple idled plants. They claim they want to grow organically and via acquisitions.

Why aren't they using their legal and financial resources to sue to get the 2000 Reform Law enforced? Especially post Loper Bright decision, the odds for success and increased opportunities for sales are per MHARR better.

2) The base graphic is from a SKY IR pitch. It made the argument that the industry could grow 141% from 2018 to historic LT average.

1) The two pink shaded callouts below are by MHI member Skyline Champion.

3) 5 years after that 2018 production level of 96,555 the 2023 U.S. production of new HUD Code manufactured homes fell back to 89,169.

ADU production in CA soared after statewide preemption kicked in. Similarly, if federal preemption under the 2000 Reform Law were enforced by HUD routinely manufactured housing production could soar nationally. That would ease affordable housing crisis. Enforcement could save tax dollars over time.

New Development Data

If such facts are merely 'market forces' then there is no antitrust violation to be inferred from such data.

But if this is part of a scheme to deliberately limit the supply of land-lease manufactured home communities, that could be an antitrust violation. In that case, it may also be reasonable to think that RICO violations are also at play.

Third Party Content Provided Under Fair Use Guidelines.

Circa 2000, some estimated that there were as many as 55,000 land lease manufactured home communities in the U.S. The Lincoln Institute reported that a FEMA study puts that number at about 50,000 today. While estimates on the number of closures varies, it appears that there are more closures than new communities being opened.

Once these facts are understood, this is arguably antitrust violating market manipulation hiding in plain sight.

Facts and statements can be true yet may still not clearly reveal the full dynamic of a situation.

The MHMA in the late 1960s and early 1970s actively worked to help develop new sites and new land lease 'mobile home' communities. By contrast, since the 2000 Reform Law, the Manufactured Housing Institute (MHI) has an opportunity to get federal law enforced that would make developing and sitting manufactured homes easier. But what MHARR calls the 2000 Reform Law is not enforced. MHI has not attempted in the 21st century to litigate that non-enforcement of the 2000 Reform Law.

MHARR REITERATES CALL FOR REPEAL OF DOE “ENERGY” RULE

Washington, D.C., July 9, 2026 – The Manufactured Housing Association for Regulatory Reform (MHARR) has reiterated and reinforced its long-standing call for the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) to repeal and repudiate its currently-deferred May 31, 2022 “final” manufactured housing “energy conservation” standards.

In a July 8, 2026 communication to DOE Secretary, Chris Wright (see, copy attached), MHARR asserts that DOE’s June 26, 2026 repudiation of the 2024 International Energy Conservation Code (IECC) – a closely-related iteration of the 2021 IECC version which forms the basis for the May 31, 2022 DOE manufactured housing standards – is a further independent, valid and sufficient basis for a parallel DOE repudiation of the manufactured housing standards. Furthermore, in repudiating the 2024 IECC, DOE cites Executive Order 14394 “Removing Regulatory Barriers to Affordable Home Construction” (EO). MHARR cited the same EO, in a March 25, 2026 communication to DOE likewise calling for the elimination of the May 31, 2022 Biden-era manufactured housing energy standards based on section 2 (c) of the EO, which states, in relevant part:

“The Secretary of HUD and the Secretary of Energy shall ... take appropriate action to reform and where appropriate, eliminate unduly burdensome or costly energy-efficiency ... requirements regarding housing ... include[ing] ...revising the Energy Conservation Program’s Energy Conservation Standards for Manufactured Housing.”

In addition, and as a further independent and sufficient basis for the repeal of the May 31, 2022 manufactured housing standards, MHARR cites DOE’s July 2, 2026 proposed rule to “permanently end” certain DOE home appliance and equipment energy mandates that have “restricted consumer choice and dr[iven] up costs,”

MHARR’s communication asserts that there is no valid or legitimate legal or practical distinction between the energy mandates that the aforesaid actions would eliminate and the May 31, 2022 manufactured housing energy standards. MHARR thus calls upon DOE to repudiate and repeal those standards.

Such action, moreover, is essential, because the pending housing bill – the 21st Century ROAD to Housing Act – would not automatically or necessarily eliminate the May 31, 2022 DOE “final” standards. A previous bill filed by Rep. Erin Houchin (R-IN) would have done that, but was “compromised” into irrelevance and ineffectiveness for reasons that have never been fully – or even partially – explained. Instead, the ROAD Act would do nothing to repeal the mandate for manufactured housing energy standards set forth in the Energy Independence and Security Act of 2007 (EISA) and would specifically allow the DOE standards to go into effect if they were approved and adopted by HUD (a virtual certainty under a Post-Trump administration).

In order to avoid such a scenario – and a major loophole incorporated within the ROAD Act – it is essential that DOE, under the current administration, take concrete action to eliminate the lingering existential threat posed by those baseless and needlessly costly regulations.

MHARR, therefore, will continue to pursue the full repeal of the May 31, 2022 DOE standards through all available means.

In addition, MHARR will continue to aggressively oppose any HUD manufactured housing energy standards that are in any way, based upon, derived from, related to, or based on the same statutory authority or external code provisions as the pending DOE standards. This further point is particularly important insofar as HUD has now published notice of a Manufactured Housing Consensus Committee (MHCC) meeting on July 23, 2026 specifically to “review the energy conservation standards for manufactured housing.” (Emphasis added).

In Washington, D.C., MHARR President and CEO Mark Weiss stated: “While Secretary Wright at DOE is actively implementing President Trump’s agenda (as set forth in Executive Order 14394) to reduce unnecessary, baseless and costly regulatory burdens on American homebuyers, including extremist-driven “energy” mandates, HUD is showing its utter contempt for both the HUD Code industry and hard-pressed lower and moderate-income consumers who would be priced out of the manufactured housing market – and the housing market altogether – by pursuing unneeded and unnecessary high-cost “energy” mandates. Even worse, it is clearly trying to railroad these standards into effect through absolutely minimal notice of the July 23, 2026 MHCC meeting and virtually no time for stakeholders to submit substantive comments. The Trump Administration can – and must – do better.”

The Manufactured Housing Association for Regulatory Reform is a Washington, D.C.- based national trade association representing the views and interests of independent producers of federally-regulated manufactured housing.

VIA FEDERAL EXPRESS

Hon. Chris Wright
Secretary
U.S. Department of Energy
1000 Independence Avenue, S.W.
Washington, D.C. 20585

Re: Manufactured Housing Energy Conservation Standards

DOE Docket No. EERE-2009-BT-BC-0021

Dear Secretary Wright:

I write once again to ask that the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) formally withdraw its "energy conservation" standards for manufactured homes final rule, published May 31, 2022, [\[1\]](#) but not yet implemented. [\[2\]](#)

As MHARR has demonstrated in multiple rounds of written comments submitted during the DOE rulemaking process, the DOE standards – contrary to baseless assertions set forth by disingenuous DOE staff in support of the "final" rule – would needlessly add thousands of dollars to the purchase price of a new manufactured home, with minimal or no corresponding benefits or, at most, benefits that would take years or decades to be realized. According to price sensitivity metrics provided by MHARR, such purchase price increases would exclude millions of Americans from homeownership and all of the benefits of homeownership, at a time of unprecedented demand and need for affordable housing.

Further, as you are aware, the DOE manufactured housing energy standards are based on – and were developed in accordance with – the International Energy Conservation Code (IECC) maintained and sponsored by the International Code Council (ICC). [\[3\]](#) It is thus highly relevant that, as in a News Release issued on June 26, 2026, [\[4\]](#) DOE, in accordance with Executive Order 14394, "Removing Regulatory Barriers to Affordable Home Construction," [\[5\]](#) specifically repudiated the 2024 IECC Code and the ICC development process for the IECC, stating:

"[T]he 2024 IECC would increase residential housing costs by more than $9.2 billion annually compared to 2006 code levels, adding more than $127 billion in cumulative costs nationwide."

Pursuant to these findings, you concluded and stated:

"American families should not be forced to pay more for a home because nonsensical energy-related mandates.  For too long, climate activists have pushed regulations that increase housing costs, reduce consumer choice, and make it harder for Americans to build and own a home. Thankfully President Trump will continue fighting for the American people so they can enjoy affordable energy access and the ability to buy the home they desire with the features they choose."

(Emphasis added).

The exact same reasoning and rationale applies with equal – if not greater force – to the May 31, 2022 “final” DOE manufactured housing “energy conservation” standards. Those IECC-derived standards, as MHARR and other commenters have consistently demonstrated, would needlessly undermine the inherent affordability of manufactured homes, contrary to the express mandate of federal manufactured housing law and would deny safe, decent and affordable housing and homeownership to millions of lower and moderate-income American families that have historically relied on the unparalleled affordability of manufactured housing to become homeowners. Indeed, DOE’s reliance on the IECC as the basis for manufactured housing energy standards is even more egregious and unfounded than the example cited in the above-referenced News Release, insofar as the IECC was never developed for, or specifically adapted to, manufactured housing, and is totally inconsistent with the unique engineering, designs and construction of HUD Code manufactured homes.

Furthermore, the manufactured housing energy mandate and May 31, 2022 DOE standards are legally, economically and practically indistinguishable from the DOE home appliance and equipment energy conservation mandates that DOE announced, on July 2, 2026, would be “permanently end[ed].” In that News Release, you again stated that:

“For too long, the American people [have] paid a price for [energy] mandates that restricted consumer choice and drove up costs. President Trump promised to end this nonsense and that is exactly what we are doing. The proposed rule will preserve the American people’s ability to choose home appliances and equipment that actually work – at prices they can afford. It’s called common sense.”

And once again, the same logic and rationale support – and demand – that DOE formally and finally withdraw its overblown, overdone, industry and home affordability-killing “energy conservation” standards for manufactured housing in order to eliminate and repudiate such unnecessary and destructive mandates pushed by the same cadre of “climate” radicals. The time has come to remove this extreme threat against the nation’s most affordable type of housing and the American consumers who rely on its purchase-price and operational affordability.

We thank you – and President Trump – for your affordability agenda, and again ask that you act to repeal the egregious May 31, 2022 DOE manufactured home “energy conservation” regulations and their underlying basis.

Sincerely,

Mark Weiss
President and CEO

[3] The May 31, 2022 DOE "final" manufactured housing standards were based on the 2021 iteration of the IECC. While the 2021 IECC is not identical to the 2024 IECC addressed by DOE's June 26, 2026 News Release and supporting materials, it is very similar and is characterized by the same type of high-cost/zero (or minimal) benefit mandates that are contained in the 2024 IECC.

[4] See, copy attached.

[5] In a prior March 25, 2026 communication to you, MHARR specifically called for the withdrawal and repudiation of the May 31, 2022 DOE manufactured housing energy standards pursuant to section 2(c) of EO 14394, which states, in relevant part: " The Secretary of [HUD] [and] the Secretary of Energy shall, within their respective authorities, take appropriate action to reform and where appropriate, eliminate unduly burdensome or costly energy-efficiency ... requirements regarding housing, to the maximum extent practicable.... Such action shall include reviewing and revising ... (i) the Energy Conservation Program's Energy Conservation Standards for Manufactured Housing." See, copy attached.

Opinion: Congress, don't mock homeownership month: Fix or flush 21st Century ROAD to Housing Act

Congress can't solve housing affordability without stronger manufactured housing reforms, zoning preemption and financing access for inherently affordable homes.
